

Chinese Characters

Activity

A crisis is a point in time when things can change for either the worst or the best. These Chinese characters represent the word "crisis." The first character means "danger." The second character means "opportunity." A crisis can have both dangers and opportunities.

A disagreement can be a kind of crisis. It can become constructive or destructive, depending on how it is handled. Think about how a disagreement can be an opportunity to bring about good, constructive changes. Now think about ways to make a crisis that could turn very negative into a situation that becomes very positive.
